Lewis Announces for Circuit Judge

Hon. JESSE K. LEWIS

Hon. Jesse K. Lewis, Assistant Attorney General of Kentucky, on March 24, filed his notification and declaration papers with the Secretary of State for Circuit Judge of the 37th Judicial District of Kentucky. The District is composed of Morgan, Elliott and Carter counties.

Mr. Lewis, who is 39 years of age, comes from one of the oldest and largest pioneer families of Eastern Kentucky. His ancestors and their relatives settled in this section of Kentucky shortly after Kentucky became a State, and their descendants are scattered thruout the District and other parts of the State. On the maternal side of his family, Mr. Lewis is a member of the Kitchen, Shearer and Rice families.

Mr. Lewis received his early education in the public schools and Christian Normal Institute of Grayson. In 1924 he graduated from Transylvania College at Lexington, and for four years thereafter he was engaged in tax and legal work for the State Tax Commission. Resigning from this position in 1928, he entered the University of Kentucky Law School where he completed his legal training in 1931. Since that time and up until 1937, when he became Assistant Attorney General of Kentucky, Mr. Lewis was engaged in the active practice of law at Grayson, during all of which time he was City Attorney. After he had served only a few months in the Attorney General's Office, and as a result of the ability displayed as a lawyer, Mr. Lewis was promoted from Sixth Assistant Attorney General to third Assistant.

Since early manhood Mr. Lewis has been a deacon in the Christian church. He is a member of and secretary to the Board of Trustees of Christian Normal Institute, a church school which is doing a great work in the field of Christian education.

Mr. Lewis has always been active in civic and community enterprises. He is a member of the American Legion, and was one of the leaders in organizing the Willie C. Lewis Post of the American Legion of Carter county. Mr. Lewis is former Adjutant and past Commander of this organization of World War Veterans.

The public and the voters in general have already become very much interested in the aggressive campaign which Mr. Lewis is waging because of the democratic and engaging manner in which he meets the people, and because of the stand he is taking to place the position of Circuit Judge on the high plane where it should be. It is the ideal of this candidate for Circuit Judge and he is so stating to the voters that the judgeship is a position that should be free from all political or subversive influences, and where the most humble citizen should be able to receive the same consideration and fair treatment as the most influential and wealthy citizen.

"The fundamental liberties of the people and the principles upon which our government is founded can only be preserved, if the courts are kept free from the control of those who have selfish interests to serve," says Mr. Lewis. He is therefore running as a candidate of the people as distinguished from a candidate of those who seek to use the courts for their own selfish purpose and advantage.

Mr. Lewis states that he will have further announcement to make to the people of the District as the campaign progresses. Since the Constitution of Kentucky guarantees fair and speedy trials in all cases, both Civil and Criminal, Mr. Lewis insists that when elected, he will conduct the Circuit Courts of the District in such a manner as to insure the honest observance of this Constitutional provision. The campaign slogan of Mr. Lewis is: "Fair dealings to all, special privilege to none."

Mr. Lewis is urging all the voters of the District, who believe in and stand for the things he is advocating, to become active in his behalf, because, as he says "the people cannot have just and honest courts unless they themselves bring about the election of men who will take a stand for justice and fair dealings."

permanent supremacy in any field. Every reader can instantly name products that are known from one end of the United States to the other. A little reflection will reveal that every one of them is a well-advertised product and a little observation will reveal that the advertising is being continued by the wise men that operate the business.

Community Sunrise Service
Easter Sunrise services for the community will be held Sunday morning at 6:00 o'clock on the hill across from high school building, if the weather permits. If weather is not favorable, services will be held at the Christian church. A good program is planned. All are invited.

DAVIS

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Coy Davis, born Tuesday morning of this week, died at birth and was buried Tuesday evening in the family cemetery near the home. Dr. C. C. Burton was the attending physician. Mrs. Davis has been seriously ill but is now getting along fairly well.

A crowd of relatives, neighbors, and friends gathered at the Davis home Tuesday evening for the funeral services, which were conducted by Pastor Rosco Brong of West Liberty, assisted by Clarence Walker, of Lexington.

A FATAL RIDE

Three persons are dead and another possibly dying as the result of an automobile ride on Saturday night.

Hager Hutton, 22, driver is the sole survivor of a joy ride from the Red River section of Wolfe county of four persons. Other members of the party were Clarence McQuinn, 50, and Ruie Nickell, 21, and Ruth Nickell, 17. The girls were sisters. The accident happened this side of Ezel when the driver evidently lost control of his car which went over an embankment. All were brought here and it was at once evident that of the party there was only the slightest chance for the one to live and he was taken to a hospital at Winchester where he is being treated for head and chest injuries, scalp lacerations and fractures of both collar bones.

MAN-MADE LAKE

Water has been pouring into Lake Mead, world's largest man-made lake, for almost four years, but it isn't full yet. The huge reservoir began to form when Boulder Dam shut its main outlet gates on February 1, 1935, and checked the Colorado River near Boulder City, Nevada.

At present Lake Mead could flood the State of Connecticut 10 feet deep, reports the National Geographic Society. From the dam, backwater extends to the Grand Canyon, more than 100 miles away. Never wider than 8 miles, the lake is deeper than Lake Erie.

When Lake Mead is full, it will hold 12 times as much water as the Aswan Reservoir on the Nile in Egypt, nearest rival in size at present. Maximum depth at the dam will be 582 feet. The world's record dive in a diving suit would have to be bettered by some 82 feet in order for a diver to touch bottom there.

GOOD ADVICE TO FARMERS

All over the United States agricultural experts are trying to persuade farm families to raise their own food requirements and sufficient feed to maintain livestock that will contribute to the family's food supply.

Undoubtedly, this is sound advice and every farm family should attempt, as far as possible, to comply with it. Of course, it is not possible for every farmer to raise all the food and feed that the family requires, but it is easily possible for the vast majority of them to raise much more than they have heretofore been accustomed to produce.

In one-crop farming communities, whether the money crop be wheat, cotton, tobacco or something else, there is considerable temptation to gamble on the price of the one cash crop. Experience over the years will demonstrate, we believe, that this is not a wise speculation. The farmers even in these communities, who get ahead, are those who practice sound farming methods.

FARMERS' COLUMN

KENTUCKY FARM NEWS

Plans to improve the livestock in Boyle county includes placing Milking Shorthorn bulls in the knob sections of the county and adding 10 community sheep dipping vats to care for increased numbers of sheep and lambs.

A livestock committee in Breathitt county is planning to place 20 purebred bulls on farms, thru the assistance of the Farm Security Administration. Applications have been made for 11 Hereford and four Milking Shorthorn sires.

Eleven men in one county on March 1 took possession of land bought under the Tenant Purchase Plan. The county farm agent, local improvement committees and other agencies will give assistance in soil-building and other work to improve the farms.

Twelve Green county farmers have ordered 20,000 black locust seedlings to set on abandoned waste land. A program, launched thru the assistance of W. E. Jackson, state extension forester, includes reforestation, timber improvement and tree planting demonstrations.

Henderson county farmers are making their own stock mineral mixture at a cost of $1.55 for 100 pounds. It consists of powdered limestone, steamed bone meal, salt and powdered charcoal. The Farm Bureau is sponsoring the project.

The county planning program in Wolfe county includes prevention of forest fires, planting of seedlings on waste land, putting sheep on all farms, drainage of level land, use of limestone and phosphate, seeding of hay and grass, and better livestock.

FARM PLAN

All County Agricultural Conservation offices in Kentucky are making plans to contact farmers concerning the 1939 "farm plan," according to O. M. Farrington, State Executive Officer. In some counties the contacts are being made by county agents and committeemen at community meetings. In other counties, farmers are being contacted when the checks for 1938 payments are distributed. Other farmers will receive their "farm plan" by means of visits to the county offices.

In 1939 "payments" will not be made to any farm operator who has not worked out with the committee and signed the "farm plan," Farrington said. The "farm plan" provides for each of the acreage allotments, the total amount of payment which may be earned, and space for the practices which will earn the entire soil-building payment. The practices will be agreed upon when the farmer and committeemen set up the "farm plan."

The "farm plan" also carries information about rates of payments, rates of deductions and credit which will be given for each soil-building practice.

Each farmer who intends to cooperate for payment should fill out a "farm plan." A copy of this will be given to the farmer at the time it is worked out, as a guide to help in carrying out the program on his farm.

Make Year's Plans

Program planning in Johnson county, as reported by County Agent Justice L. Pidcock, includes 1,000 farmers to apply 10,000 tons of limestone, 600 farmers to use 500 tons of superphosphate, 1,000 farmers to seed 10,000 acres of pasture and hay mixtures, 25 farmers to grow meadow fescue, 25 to grow Italian rye grass and lespedeza, 500 farmers to seed 1,000 acres to cover crops, 20 winter cover crop demonstrations, 15 hybrid corn demonstrations, 16 tobacco demonstrations, purebred sires for all dairy farmers, and in 12 other communities, 25 poultry demonstrations, 20 sheep raising demonstrations, 25 strawberry growing demonstrations, 20 garden demonstrations, 25 4-H clubs with 1,200 members.

HYBRID CORN

Strains of hybrid corn developed at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station will be distributed over the state and future supplies of seed produced under the supervision of a special committee of farmers named by Dean Thomas P. Cooper. In this way it is hoped to produce within a few years sufficient seed of approved hybrids to supply the needs of the farmers of the state.

The committee of farmers, the Experiment Station and the College of Agriculture and the Kentucky Seed Improvement Association will cooperate in furthering the production and distribution of pure strains of the hybrid corn developed at the Experiment Station farm at Lexington.

The Experiment Station has produced outstanding hybrid corn, and Dean Cooper said it was his desire that agriculture secure the benefit of this scientific work.

Members of the Committee are Murray Hagan, Owensboro; Charles Meacham, Morganfield; W. H. Rogers, Harrodsburg; W. F. Rickard, Winchester, and W. C. Johnstone of the College of Agriculture, acting as an advisory member.

Find Market for Milk

Whitley county farmers, who are interested in developing dairying, have arranged to sell milk and cream to a Somerset creamery. The production of 500 cows will go to Somerset, beginning April 1, with the addition of possibly 1,500 cows during the year. County Agent Wilmot Carter was recently sent to Virginia to consider the purchase of Milking Shorthorns. Both farmers and 4-H club members in Whitley county are interested in this breed.

The tax system will not be perfect until every one has some part in its payment. That is the only method by which all the people can be made tax-conscious. As long as half the people escape without the payment of any taxes at all, they are not going to be much concerned about the wisdom of expenditures or the size of the public debt.

Circuit Judge James M. Gilbert deplored the "lack of respect for human life" in his charge to a Harlan grand jury. He called on officers, jurors and citizens to cooperate to curb lawlessness, saying "the criminal element will take Harlan county if you don't enforce the law." Judge Gilbert declared that if all the "pistols in Harlan county were gathered up they would fill a railroad box car."—Big Sandy News.

Frankfort, Ky.—The sales of real estate for delinquent general property taxes to be held by sheriffs in the next few weeks will be valid for the first time in many years according to the department of revenue.

This means, according to officials of the department, that the purchaser of real estate at a tax sale can take possession after three years, whereas under previous legislation most sales were invalid and the property could not be possessed even after expiration of the redemption period, which was five years.

BUS FARES REDUCED

Substantial reductions in motor bus fares thruout the Southeast were announced here today by officials of the Southeastern Greyhound Lines. The fare reductions will be in effect South of the Ohio and East of the Mississippi. The new fares, approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission, called for a scale, the cost per mile becoming less as the distance traveled increases. The fare starts at a zone rate from 1 to 50 miles at .015c per mile and is decreased according to the mileage traveled. Over 500 miles rates are .0115c per mile. Motor bus officials pointed out that this is also subject to a 10% discount on round trips. The new fares are the lowest transportation rates in the history of travel by highway, rail or any other means of transportation.

WASHINGTON NOTES

New Locks

To safeguard the Panama Canal against aerial attacks, Secretary Woodring has recommended the construction of an additional set of locks, to be built a quarter to a half-mile away from the present set, at a cost of $277,000,000.

Guam

Harbor improvements on the Island of Guam, which has been a cause of considerable dispute, will probably be considered as an addition to a Rivers and Harbors bill. In the end it appears, the improvements will be made but not authorized as a part of the naval, air and submarine base program.

Invited

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States will hold its annual banquet in Washington on May 4th and there is a chance that the President will address the organization for the first time in five years. Definite acceptance of the invitation is not certain, but Mr. Roosevelt will announce his decision after returning from Warm Springs, Ga., about April 10.

Anti-Trust Policy

Attorney-General Frank Murphy has been thinking on a plan to provide sound enforcement of anti-trust statutes and at the same time eliminate needless friction with business. While prosecution will be vigorous, there will be discrimination and an effort to prevent conditions necessitating anti-trust suits.

Reason

When President Roosevelt sailed from Key West in mid-February he stated that he hoped to be away until March 4 but that disturbing reports from abroad might cause him to come back to the capital sooner. This statement baffled some observers and critics complained that it was ill-advised. Hitler's recent drive into Czechoslovakia, however, seems to show that the President had reason to expect some such developments in Europe some time in March.

Gold

The political situation in Europe is expected to increase the flow of frightened capital to the United States, and causes another increase in the already unwieldy gold stocks of the nation. Shortly after the middle of March, the monetary gold stocks of the United States had passed the fifteen billion dollar level, setting a high record for this country and going far past the maximum ever possessed by any other country. It should be noted, in comparison, that when President Roosevelt revalued the dollar, the gold stocks of the United States amounted to $6,829,000,000 and just prior to devaluation, the total was only $4,033,000,000.

To Cooperate

Democratic Senators, recently calling upon the President, report that hereafter he will inform senators of legislative proposals he has in mind and give them an opportunity to make protests or suggestions before definite action is taken. If this works out in the future, it will be a step toward reappraisal between the President and Democratic leaders in Congress. Heretofore, there has been considerable complaint on Capitol Hill about the failure of the President to consult party legislative leaders before announcing definite intentions.

Alaskan Survey

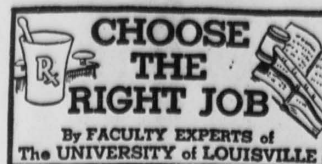

The Federal Coast and Geodetic Survey will begin this summer a five-year, $25,000,000 project to chart a shorter, safer course to Asia thru the North Pacific. The idea is to develop a route between Continental America and Asia thru Unalak Pass and westerly along the northern side of the Aleutians. The Unalak Pass has been dangerous because of submarine peaks and fogs. The survey will chart the depth of the ocean, and radio, compass and telephonic equipment is expected to overcome the hazards of fog.

Anniversary

President Roosevelt will speak for five minutes at Mount Vernon on April 14 as part of the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the arrival of a messenger from Congress to advise General Washington of his election as President of the United States.

Opens Headquarters

Louisville, Ky., April 5.—Opening headquarters in the Kentucky Hotel for Lieutenant Governor Keen Johnson of Richmond, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, J. Lyter Donaldson, of Carrollton, said here today that the formation of a Johnson-for-Governor campaign organization "is in response to an overwhelming demand for an honest, trustworthy and unwavering Democrat as a candidate to lead the Democratic party to certain victory in November."

SERVING THE GOVERNMENT

Government in the United States is one of the world's largest employers. American youth rightfully inquires into the vocational possibilities of our governmental system.

Public education and the postal service lead among the services employing the largest number. Other important groups include highway maintenance, the military forces, police and fire protection, and municipal public utilities. The remaining employees are scattered among the various other government services.

In 1932 governmental units in the United States employed an estimated 3,278,000 persons at a cost of over $4,500,000,000. Since 1932 the number of government employees and the payroll have been increased.

The nature of the work varies as it does in any large private business. The kinds of work might be divided into administrative, professional, clerical, skilled and trades and unskilled. As taxes increase there is a realization on the part of the citizen that government can afford only the services of the best and most efficient.

Only by improving our government personnel can our government perform the complex problems demanded of it. Government must select its employees on the basis of ability and merit and must promote on the same basis. Any other program not only endangers the national program but is a denial of the American ideal. Political pull is slowly vanishing. A realization of this trend is opening the door of opportunity to thousands of young men and women.

Entrance to most careers in the service of the national government is by application to the United States Civil Service Commission. Many agencies of the government offer careers although not operating under this Commission. Many states and cities are extending the merit principle and thereby adding to the opportunity of careers in public service.

Last January the State of Michigan extended the merit system to include some 17,000 state employees. The opportunities for public service include practically every kind of work imaginable. These opportunities are present today in many branches of our national government and to an increasing extent in state and municipal governments.

Careers in government should be considered by capable young men and women, and citizens must all work to establish a real merit system in our public service. Government should lead in establishing the principle that ability, honesty, and hard work will be rewarded.—Dr. Ken-

Space in this column will not permit me to conduct a long quiz program, but I am going to ask one question here and wish that readers would try and answer it honestly before looking at the answer. Here is the question:

What is the common reason that some cars veer to one side when the brakes are applied?

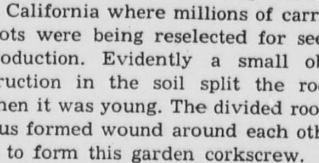

(a) Something is wrong with the steering mechanism.
(b) Brakes are not equalized.
(c) Rear axles are loose.

What do you think the answer is? This is it:

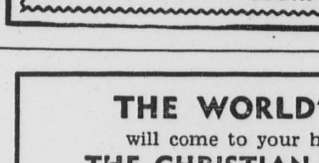

If the brake lining grips more firmly on one wheel than on another, the car is apt to veer to one side when the brakes are applied. The car should be taken to a competent service man to have the brakes equalized.

Garden Corkscrew

Science hasn't yet learned how to grow metal corkscrews in the garden, but a "corkscrew" carrot is the nearest approach to it. It was found at a Ferry-morse Seed Breeding Station in California where millions of carrot roots were being reseeded for seed production. Evidently a small obstruction in the soil split the root when it was young. The divided roots thus formed wound around each other to form this garden corkscrew.

CROCKETT SCHOOL NEWS

A play, sponsored by Mrs. Edna Hutchinson, was presented in the high school auditorium, Friday night, March 1. The proceeds were $17.40. The money to be shared by the school in general and the Crockett basketball club equally.

The Crockett grade school closed March 24. A very interesting closing day program was given.

To the teachers and pupils who vacated one half of the building, we wish to say that their presence was missed considerably. But as they have served their allotted time, they are due to relieve their minds of the regular routine of school work for a spell.

Miss Ola Skaggs, who has been the local 4-H club leader for the past year, met one day last week with the student body and reorganized the 4-H club at Crockett.

The following officers were elected: President, Walter Lyon; vice president, Mary Ellen Ison; secretary and treasurer, Dorothy Ferguson. Clarice Skaggs and Walter Lyon were selected for club leaders for the present year. The club plans to go on a picnic Easter Sunday.

The following students were on the honor roll for the first six weeks of the second semester:

Seniors—Alice Fannin Versa Barker, Hearst Holbrook, Leonard Smith, Beulah Wheeler, Dorsa Hutchinson. Freshman—Resvie Wheeler, Arline Wheeler.

Those having an average of "B" or above the first semester were: Alice Fannin (who heads the class with five "A's") followed closely by Versa Barker, who carried three subjects with three "A's". Others with slightly lower marks but honor students however are: Robert Smith, Glenn Hutchinson, Beulah Wheeler and Hearst Holbrook, all of which are seniors. Freshman: Resvie Wheeler and Arleen Wheeler and Fay Hutchinson.

Robert Smith will represent Crockett in the oratorical contest sponsored by the Kentucky Bankers Association. Robert is president of the senior class and has always taken a very active part in all school activities.

The seniors were in charge of the last regular PTA meeting. They gave a very enlightening program, relating some of the old stories such as the story of The Three Bears, Jack and the Beanstalk, and Little Red Riding Hood. The audience seemed to be surprised that "seniors" were capable of giving such an advanced bit of entertainment. So seniors probably are not so dumb as they frequently are given credit for, after all.

Miss Beckley and Miss Letterman who are stationed here at the present time, conducting Bible study in this vicinity, gave a very interesting chapel program Wednesday. They are in charge of the devotional exercises each Wednesday. We were very glad to welcome Miss Letterman back after her vacation of a few weeks.

Those students on the campus who still insist that you should not let your studies interfere with your education, decided last week to organize a club. Those who had any grades below "C" were eligible to become members. They decided that the "D and E" club would be the most appropriate name for the club. Captains were selected and they in turn chose all the members. The purpose which is different from the purpose of most clubs, is to disqualify members as soon as possible by getting the members to raise their grades. The side having the most members at the end of the semester is to buy the opposite side a present. It's a new idea but it may work.—OTTIS McGUIRE, Principal.

Family Reunion

Trenton, Ohio.—Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ferguson gave a surprise party Friday, March 31, 1939 in honor of Mrs. Ferguson's mother, Mrs. Lizzie Tolson's 70th birthday. Her children were all with her for the first time in twenty-five years. Billie Carter, Greear, Ky., James L. Carter, John Carter, Lee Carter, Mrs. Nancy Byrd of Middletown, Ohio, Mrs. C. J. Chaney, Grassy Creek, Ky., Mrs. Oscar Ferguson, Trenton, Ohio, and Mrs. Curt Halsey, Syracuse, Ind. Grandchildren present were, James, Billy and Naomi Ferguson, Trenton, Ohio, Jack and Paul Carter, Middletown, Ohio, Sterling Halsey, Syracuse Ind., Myrtle Carter, Trenton, Ohio, Louise and Jimmie Carter, Middletown, Ohio. Several other relatives and friends were present. Mrs. Tolson received many beautiful gifts. They all departed wishing Mrs. Tolson many more happy birthdays.

COUNTY 4-H MEETING HELD

Officers and leaders representing seven 4-H Clubs over the county met in the Christian church here at West Liberty. The meeting was opened by singing the 4-H Friendship Song. The songs were shown in picture. Brother Roscoe Brong led the devotional services. Brother Brong contributed much to the program.

Miss Edith Lacy, Assistant State 4-H Leader, outlined to the group the 4-H Club events that a 4-H Club member can take part in the year 1939. The following events were discussed by Miss Lacy: Morgan county spring rally to be held May 20. At this rally, demonstration teams will be selected to take part in the District Contest at Paintsville May 22. At the District Contest, the best boys and girls demonstration teams will go to Lexington with expenses paid. Miss Lacy also told of Junior Week which is held in Lexington annually. This year it will be held June 5-10. Each county in the state will be allowed to have representative club members go to Junior Week. This county can have 3 girls and 5 boys go to Junior Week. Nora Frances Cecil represented this county last year at Junior Week in the style show. Miss Lacy also explained the 4-H Club camp held at Quicksand, State Fair at Louisville, and 4-H Club international Show held at Chicago. This county usually takes part in all of these. Instructions were also given to the ladies on sewing and canning by Miss Lacy.

Mr. J. M. Feltner, Assistant State 4-H Club Leader in his usual effective manner discussed with the group the 4-H Club program for Morgan county. He impressed upon the group the importance of carrying out a good program. The following is the number of each project being undertaken in the county this year: 200 clothing, 75 corn, 250 tobacco, 10 sheep, 25 poultry, 25 swine, 75 canning, and 60 small fruit. It was suggested by Mr. Feltner and approved by the group that the winner of these various projects be presented by the County Agent to Dean Cooper at the Quicksand Fair and be recognized along with champions of the other counties. And it is further suggested by Mr. Feltner that these champions along with the leaders be given a luncheon by the West Liberty Kiwanis Club, and that the outstanding 4-H Club boy and girl of the county make application for trip to Washington Camp in 1940.

The Crockett Dramatic Club, organized and sponsored by the adult teacher, Edna Hutchinson, gave its first performance Saturday, March 18, at 7:30 p.m., in the Crockett High School Gymnasium.

The play was a comedy farce, "Bound to Marry." The following members of the dramatic club took part: Clarice Skaggs, Ola Skaggs, Dorothy Barker, Esther Conley, Mary Ann Wheeler, Glen Hutchinson, Ernest Hutchinson, Robert Fannin Walter Lyons.

Over 150 people were at the performance and every one enjoyed it immensely. The first performance of the dramatic club was given for the benefit of the PTA of the Crockett High School. The PTA is very much interested in the work being done by the Adult Education teacher, Edna Hutchinson, and in addition to organizing and sponsoring the dramatic club she is teaching a class in typewriting and also doing home visiting (teaching adults in the home). Several have taken the course in twirling and all of those who have continued the work are now proficient in it, and it will help them in any field of work or profession they may choose to follow. Every one who is interested in the commercial field should take this course for it costs nothing and can be taken in spare time. Mrs. Hutchinson who is a competent instructor can give the same training which would cost quite a sum of money and require several months training in a commercial college.—Written by Robert Fannin, formerly a teacher in Elliott and Morgan counties.

BOB JONES' COMMENTS

"Be not forgetful to entertain strangers; for thereby some have entertained angels unawares." When I was a boy we gave great emphasis to Christian hospitality. Our home was open to visitors regardless of whether they were Christians or not. Ragged peddlers with bundles on their backs were invited to spend the night in our home, and we felt insulted if they offered to pay for their room and meals. We lived on a farm. We usually had "plenty to eat." Those were great days, but they seem to have gone in our modern America. Most of us are too busy to be hospitable, but there is still room for Christian courtesy and for a friendliness of heart on the part of Christians. There is something very gentle about Christianity. Mr. Drummond said something like this, "If a man is a Christian, he will be a gentleman." That is true. The most refined people I have ever known were Christian people. They may not know how to hold their knives when they eat. They may not know the latest methods of dress, and they may use poor English, but Christians, real Christians, are always ladies and gentlemen." There is nothing uncouth about Christianity. We need to teach again the American youth the lessons of Christian courtesy and Christian hospitality as our fathers and mothers taught their children.

Not long ago the editor read an article in a secular magazine about the "roughneck" style of dress and manner of a great many university and college students thruout America. This story said that even the sons of rich men who could buy respectable clothes, if they chose to do so, dressed slovenly and oftentimes wore dirty shirts, and tried to assume a "hobo role" on the campus. This should not be. I am the founder and president of a college. In our institution we have students from the homes of the rich and also students from the homes of the poor. We insist upon neatness. Even poor students can dress neatly. Water is still plentiful in this country and people can take baths. In my evangelistic work thruout America, I noted many interesting cases of bums who have dropped into our meetings and been converted. The next night they might come back in the same clothes, but usually I found that during the day they took off their ragged clothes and washed them. "Convert a bum, and he will take a bath," I have said many times. Sometime ago a famous educator ate dinner in the Bob Jones College. Our dining room, which is very attractive, was filled with students. "Nowhere have I found a group of students that looked so neat and clean and seemed quite so refined as this group," the educator said. "How do you do it, Dr. Jones?" I should like to know. We do not stand for a greasy-nose, dirty-fingered, run-down-at-the-heel religion. Christianity produces refinement. Christianity produces decency. These universities and colleges where they have this roughneck, loud, boisterous style and all this uncouthness of dress and manner need a revival of old-time religion and they need some iron-handed discipline to give special emphasis to the courtesies and decencies of life.

UNEMPLOYED CAPITAL

It is generally conceded that behind the great and persisting unemployment of labor lies an unprecedented unemployment of capital, rather than lack of capital, in the United States. In fact, the inability to find safe and profitable fields for the investment of idle capital is our greatest economic problem.

This situation has existed for several years, and unless and until it can be changed there is no hope for a return of general prosperity.

An organization that is now engaged in an intensive study of means for relieving capital unemployment is the Investment Bankers Association of America, which recently began a series of regional meetings in pursuance of its 1939 program. In outlining the purpose of these meetings, officials of the association said: "The national organization is bending every effort to get the capital markets reopened. Our number one job is to revive the investment banking business, not alone for the benefit of us in the business, but for the benefit of every one in the country—the working man, the farmer, the business man, the man on relief. New financing, in other words, is the forerunner of new jobs and the cure for unemployment, which is certainly the number one national problem."

Any means whereby a larger volume of private capital may be put to work should meet with the approval

DEPORT CERTAIN ALIENS

On March 23d, the House of Representatives passed unanimously and without debate a bill by Rep. John J. Dempsey, Democrat of New Mexico which provides for the exclusion or deportation of any alien who advocates making any change in the American form of Government.

Passing the House without objection the bill was sent to the Senate with the speed of a private measure on private calendar day, when scores of such bills are sometimes passed at a single session.

The bill originally provided deportation for those advocating any fundamental change in the form of government, but, on recommendation of the Immigration and Naturalization Committee, the House struck out the word, "fundamental."

Mr. Dempsey, who is a member of the Dies Committee, emphasized in support of his measure the open activities of aliens against the laws and form of this government.

It was brought out by representatives of different labor organizations and of veteran associations in hearings before the Immigration Committee that foreign groups and even governments in some instances are financing emissaries to assist in the distribution of propaganda the effect of which is to stir up strife in both industrial and political circles to the ultimate end of breaking down all democratic government.

The principal objection of the opposition at the hearing was that if the bill became a law its enforcement would suppress expressions of opinion on important political issues by aliens; also, that the bill if enacted into law would be difficult of enforcement.

It was evident that the Immigration Committee and the House felt that aliens should have no vocal or other rights on matters pertaining to our government.

HOLIDAY

April 3.—April 1—Fool's Day, did some one get it on you? I am sure they did. This month is noted for the birthdays of many great men and the beginning of many wars in the past.

Many from here attended court last week. Harrison Holliday, James Oney, Sam Holliday, Acy Stamper, Orral Arnett and Newt Reed from here are on the grand jury.

Jane Gullett, who has been at Gullett for awhile, visiting her daughter, Mrs. Orron Henry, has returned home. C. G. Lykins was at Wayland Saturday on business.

The county agent was here last week to organize a 4-H club, but the rain was so hard that no one was out. He will return again this month to organize the club.

Acy Stamper has gone into the raising of chickens. He has about 400 chickens now in his brooder house. He says it keeps one busy looking after them.

Several from here attended church at Harper Sunday. Several attended the services from other places. The young folks showed a great interest in singing.

The farmers here, when the weather is favorable, are sowing oats and grasses to fill their quota for the 1939 Soil Building Program. More grasses will help to protect our soil and prevent future flood damage.

What is more enjoyable than to read our county paper, The Licking Valley Courier? Every correspondent should be alert and get all the news available and report to our most worthy Editor. Yours Truly wishes to him and all the readers of his paper the happiest Easter Sunday that they have ever had. BLUE EYES
